

Washington Pottery Company

A large, textured, light-colored ceramic vase filled with dried grasses, set in a garden with rocks and other plants. The vase is the central focus, with a natural, weathered appearance. It sits on a bed of small stones, surrounded by various green plants and a large rock. In the background, there's a stone wall and a small white structure, possibly a birdhouse or a small shrine. The overall scene is a lush, natural garden setting.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

Washington Pottery Company is a direct importer of fine pottery and goes to extensive lengths to provide you with the highest quality products from family owned pottery factories worldwide. We are in continuous contact with our factories to be able to extend to you the very best price, quality and service.

All of our factories produce premium products and provide dependable delivery directly to our Kent warehouse. We distribute our products, usually with our own trucks, to our customers throughout the Northwest. Most of our customers are garden centers, nurseries, landscapers, interior designers, and florists. Although we do supply product nationwide, our focus is geared toward customers in the greater Northwest.

Many items we carry are individually hand crafted, and therefore may have slight color or size variation, smudges, or firing cracks, all of which are features of handmade pottery. No two pots are exactly alike, and every piece is a handcrafted work of art with its own character.

We take tremendous pride in our customer service and offer an unparalleled relationship with our customers. You can expect nothing but the best in service. Simply choose the colors and styles you want from a vast selection of products in our catalog and we will take care of the rest.
